

POLICY ON STUDENT INVOLVEMENT IN PROJECTS

Aspira University of Applied Sciences (hereinafter: Aspira University) always focuses its activities on its students and learners and encourages all activities that contribute to raising the quality of student life, academic development and active participation in the social and academic community with the aim of establishing students' rights and fulfilling their interests.

Students of Aspira University are always and will always be provided with full academic and administrative support and assistance in engaging in student activities in the form of providing information and involvement in student projects and programs, funding student projects, joining student organizations and providing opportunities to participate in writing scientific articles with teachers, enjoying their full cooperation, academic experience and prospects of development.

The goals that Aspira University strives for through this Policy are:

- Providing a unique experience to students through student projects and programs
- Active participation of students in the social and academic community through volunteering, association in student organizations and participation in extracurricular activities
- Popularization of science and engaging in science work
- Achieving quality leisure time of students in order to develop competences for social inclusion and the labour market

This policy confirms the active interest and motivation of Aspira University in providing the teaching and extracurricular opportunities offered to students as well as the realization of the requirements, interests and the needs of all participants concerned.

Aspira University is also committed to constantly working on and improving the quality of the process of student involvement in projects, and will take care of meeting the needs and expectations of all participants with a commitment to developing and maintaining quality. This policy applies equally to all those involved in the process and implementation of its goals and guidelines, as well as to students and learners, in order to ensure a safe environment for academic development and training.

Class: 003-08-01/23

Number: 2181-214-23-03/05

Split, 14th April 2023

President of Governing board
Milivoj Jerkunica

Deliver to:

1. Notice board
2. University council
3. Student office
4. Archives